Player Handley's Great Work Wildly Cheered by Spectators at Game.

The Engravers and the Plumbers teams of the Richmond Bowling Association met last night at the Newport in the regular scheduled game, and put up one of the prettiest games played so far this season. As these two teams are great rivals, the rooting was intense from start to finish.

Player Handley, the baby of the Engravers team, who only weighs 265 pounds, deserves great credit for his work for he won the first game of the series from his team by striking out in the last frame, and was given great applause by the audience.

PRINCETON GAMES SHOW BIG PROFIT

Football and Baseball Last Year Cleared More Than $27,000.

Princeton, N. J., January 13.—Football at Princeton last season, according to a report just issued by the general treasurer of the Athletic Association, gathered in the tidy sum of $23,588.69, with disbursements which left a balance of $16,535.87. The profit from the Yale game was $23,488.48, and from the Dartmouth game $3,041.21. The training table cost $2,189.95, the coaching $5,352.

The receipts from the training table, viz., the money paid in lieu of board by the candidates, was $27,775, as against similar receipts for the 1909 team of $12,021.21. The balance left over after everything was cleared up as far as the 1909 season was concerned, was $12,654.51, with the receipts $44,255.28, from which was paid $31,254.94 for suits and supplies for the 1909 team, and $2,500 for the same account, 1908 bill, $1,949.08 was expended for doctors and drugs during the 1909 season, and but $208.59 for 1910, which reflects credit upon the training methods of last year.

The baseball receipts were $28,532.51. The principal disbursements in this department were guarantees and traveling expenses, $9,044.49; training table $3,021.44; and coaching and pitching, $2,314.99. The balance was $10,561.57. Receipts from track meets were $2,125.26, and at the end of the season the books showed that $2,125.26 was taken from the general expense fund to make good the track deficit. Both basketball and tennis showed losing balances, these being $117.51 and $41.07, respectively.

JEFFRIES TO FIGHT JOHNSON AGAIN

Tex Rickard Has Champion's Promise and Is Working on Boilermaker.

San Francisco, January 13.—According to reports, Tex Rickard, one of the promoters of the Jeffries-Johnson fight held at Reno July 1 last, is making an effort to arrange a return engagement of these two fighters. Rickard has given it out that he holds Johnson's promise to meet Jeffries at any time that he may suit his pleasure, providing the right sized purse is offered, and Rickard is now working on Jeffries to get his consent to arrange the match. The fight would be held in the city of Los Angeles, California, and would be a mere effort to encourage those who are anxious to see Johnson beaten.

Jeffries, of course, would have nothing to lose and would be a good chance to add to his fortune. Rickard has the reputation of being a hustler. Few promoters would attempt to arrange such a meeting between these two fighters, not only because it is taking a long chance but also because it looks like being against a hard game trying to induce Jeffries to re-enter the ring. Jeffries is in sight who could give Johnson an argument, Jeffries might have stronger support than is anticipated in that he would be the only "white horse."

BURNS TO MEET LANG.

Seattle, Wash., January 13.—Tommy Burns, formerly champion heavyweight, cabled to-day to London his acceptance of a fight with Bill Lang on April 17. Hugh McIntosh, a London promoter, telegraphed Burns as follows:

"Can you meet Bill Lang at Sydney, N. S. W., Easter Monday, April 17, and winner of Bill Lang-Sam Langford battle to be fought here February 15, in London?"

Burns replied: "Accept, and will let you know in thirty days if my knee stands." Burns will not go into training for a month. He plans to leave Seattle for Sydney about March 1, and will have a gymnasium at his disposal.

He expects Langford to defeat Lang, and therefore counts on fighting Langford in London.

KAUFMAN PRAISED BY JACK JOHNSON

World's Champion Considers Him Best White Heavyweight.

New York, January 13.—Jack Johnson, who is here for a day or two, denies that he has a secret understanding with Al Kaufman to fight in London under Hugh McIntosh's management, but at the same time he says Kaufman is the best heavyweight in the world, barring himself, of course. Johnson declares that Kaufman would be "eat up" such men as Jeanette, McVey and Sam Langford, simply because of his superior knowledge of boxing and his splendid physique. As for Bill Lang, of Australia, Johnson says Kaufman can beat that gentleman in a few rounds, maybe half a dozen.

"I don't believe Al Kaufman wants to fight me," says the heavyweight champion. "I hear he challenged me recently just to boost his show, and I don't think he will be ready to talk business for a long time. But when he is ready I am, no, there is no interest in a fight between me and Langford, because as I said some time ago, two negroes will draw a huge crowd. This would surely be the case if reports from Jeffries training camp should be of any value. It would be a mere effort to encourage those who are anxious to see Johnson beaten."

Jeffries, of course, would have nothing to lose and would be a good chance to add to his fortune. Rickard has the reputation of being a hustler. Few promoters would attempt to arrange such a meeting between these two fighters, not only because it is taking a long chance but also because it looks like being against a hard game trying to induce Jeffries to re-enter the ring. ## Senator Under Charges

UNITED STATES SENATOR ISAAC STEPHENSON, OF WISCONSIN. Charges have been filed with Governor F. E. McGovern by the 1900 State Senate Committee, which investigated the primary campaign and election of Isaac Stephenson to the United States Senate, that he had received $50,000 in bribes, corruption and fraud after an expenditure of $50,000. Senator Stephenson declines that the charges are true.

JONES ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY

Lights in styling itself "the organization," and which has never scrupled at any means to accomplish its selfish ends, has always endeavored to maintain its hold not merely by degrading the people, but by the use of bribery and fraud, and by the use of frauds at the polls. In Virginia, I regret to say, such fraud has been repeatedly committed at party primaries, and in consequence of recent judicial decisions, can hereafter be committed without the fear of punishment.

The pitiful condition of politics, which has degenerated into a selfish strife among professional politicians for the spoils and patronage of office, necessarily obscures consideration of great questions of public policy, and the people of a State and the nation suffer woefully. If a Senator or other public officer is chosen because he is a member of or friendly to a certain ring or political combine called or misnamed "the organization," the interests of the people whom he is to represent are confessedly subordinated to those of the ring or combine, or are left out of sight altogether. It was for this reason that at the Roanoke convention twelve years or more ago I offered the resolution, and at the Norfolk convention had the supreme satisfaction of witnessing its triumphant adoption, that gave the Democrats of Virginia the right to choose a Senator for themselves, and not have the choice made for them by members of a Legislature chosen mainly for other functions. I would not seek this office in any other way than at the hands of the people, and I propose to submit all the questions arising out of my candidacy to the people of Virginia, face to face, in every city and county in the State, as far as time and my strength will permit. I am not unduly mindful of the odds. The so-called organization or machine has been long entrenched in power.

In my opinion, much too long, and I believe the people of the State have become weary of the intolerable abuses which its unrestrained power has brought upon them. If my candidacy is, as I believe, in the interest of the people, I have confidence that they possess intelligence enough to decide for themselves, and know they possess honesty and love of honesty, and that they desire to see fair play; and even if our party primaries are to remain without the protection of the law, or such safeguards as a party convention may be able to provide, should the "organization" suffer one to be called, I cannot believe they will allow me to be defeated by corrupt practices and devices. My appeal will be made to the people, and I trust they will identify my cause with the cause of the people, and in election can cause me no loss or suffering, except as it may affect them.

To Combat Evil Methods.

My unrelenting opposition to the evil political conditions which I have attempted to describe, and to the men who are responsible for their existence, and who have profited and continue to profit by the same, is not unknown. I trust to the people of my State. It is my hope through my candidacy to awaken my fellow-Democrats of Virginia to a realization of the danger which lies in those conditions, and which can only be averted by the overthrow and destruction of what is popularly known as the "political machine," and "Office Brokerage Trust" of Virginia. To the accomplishment of this task I may be expected to devote all the energy and strength which I possess.

CANDIDATES FAIL TO SETTLE TERMS

Senatorial Situation in Thirtieth District Referred to Arbitration Board.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Suffolk, Va., January 13.—Seeking to simplify the State senatorial situation in the Thirtieth District, the conference of the three candidates to-day created a number of more intricate than ever. Col. J. E. West, Assembly delegate from Nansemond, and Attorney Ernest I. Williams and Dr. E. P. Turner, both of Isle of Wight, conferred for several hours in an effort to decide whether Nansemond or Isle of Wight is entitled to furnish the county through respect to the rotation system, the remaining county, has no candidate as yet.

West's contention was that Nansemond should have eight years, and that Senator Holland, now Congress- man-elect, has served but four years. Williams and Turner claimed that Holland's promotion gives Isle of Wight the right to furnish the county. The candidates failed to decide, but signed an agreement leaving the question to a select committee of fifteen, composed of the representatives of the three counties and twelve other Democrats, four to be named by each chairman. The committee also request the committee to report how long each county shall have the senatorship in future.

There was an understanding that neither candidate should suggest to any chairman whom he might suggest. The senatorship has through precedent been rotating among three counties since the Civil War, but the length of senatorial service has varied.

There is a well developed sentiment which resists the removal of the problem from the hands of the voters, and it is not impossible that this will develop to such an extent that they may be controlled by some unprincipled man, no matter what the committee's decision. It is held that the agreement signed binds no persons in either county except the signers themselves, and the presumption that the arbitration board can define the limit of future senatorial representation is regarded as a presumptuous proposition. An adherence to the decision of the arbitrators would practically eliminate the voters of two counties from a voice in the selection of a Senator.
